

Bill Putnam (Fairy Meadow) Hut Emergency Information and Procedures

It is important that you understand that you are in a remote location, where a helicopter flight is only possible during daylight hours and even then may not be possible in the event of inclement weather.

In the event of an emergency that requires helicopter evacuation you will need to do the following:

Radio

Contact Louisiana-Pacific Canada on the radio between the hours of 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Generally speaking, an Alpine Helicopters employee will also be listening the radio frequency that your radio is set up for during those hours.

Note that the radio is not a guaranteed method of making emergency contact, due to the limited and sometimes periodic hours that the repeater is manned.

The radio is for emergency use only and cannot be used to relay personal messages or to get weather reports. Please do not attempt to use the radio for anything other than emergencies, or we will lose the valuable free use of the Louisiana-Pacific Canada repeater.

Satellite Phone

In the event of an emergency please contact Alpine Helicopters as they are assigned for all emergency rescues, and keep a cell phone 24 hours a day which can also be called in the event of an emergency.

Alpine Helicopters – 24 hour Cell phone 1-250-344-8494

It is strongly recommended that you take in a satellite phone as well as the radio.

The radio is necessary for communicating with the helicopter on the flight days, while the satellite phone is the surest way of contacting the outside world at all times.

Due to the relatively short life of your satellite phone batteries, it is highly recommended that you only use the phone for emergencies.

Rescue Costs

If you use the proper procedure to call in an emergency, the British Columbia Government will pay for the rescue.

If someone in your party needs to leave the hut for a reason other than a true emergency, that person will be responsible for paying for their helicopter flight.

Radio Procedures

In all conversations involving an emergency and/or rescue situation:

- Be concise and precise in your statements and requests.
- Speak at a rate that others can listen to and record comfortably.
